ABOUT ME

After graduating in 2017, I began working as an intern for the first year. Since then, I have been working professionally. During this time, I took care to expand my tech stack and worked with different technologies at three different companies. I have developed a total of 30+ websites and created 10+ admin panels. In addition to these, I also had personal projects, such as designing web components, micro-services, and JavaScript games. Furthermore, I tried to improve my skills in working with server-side technologies, such as Bash scripts, crons, and log handling. Additionally, I adapted to front-end technologies and have a strong interest in JavaScript (especially Vue.js) and CSS. I have worked on many projects as a Full Stack developer, but I am more familiar with PHP, Laravel, and SQL. In addition to these, I have also used technologies such as Docker, Redis, Python, and React.
